Ladies Auxiliary News

August 2008

I hope everyone is enjoying the summer. The September 8th meeting will be a Covered Dish Dinner at 6pm. Start getting those recipes ready!

BUNCO is back! Please join our happy group of players on September 28th from 1-4pm. Bring a snack to share. There will be prizes and lots of fun. For more info call Sharon (598-1663) or Gracia (591-2007).

Get ready for the 2008 Road Rally! There is a $1/ticket raffle for a $100 gas card going around. This is to help offset the cost of the event. This year's event will be held on September 20th at 6:30pm. The tickets are $10 per person. The committee is asking for helpers this year. The event has grown and there is a big need for bodies to help with many different tasks. Please call Gracia (591-2007) or Terry (592-4334) with your offers to help.

Upcoming events: Hannibal Field Days will be upon us before you know it. Look for the sign up sheet to help or just show up.

The Flag Day Committee would like to thank the Auxiliary for all they did to make Flag Day enjoyable. It was a nice ceremony and a wonderful tribute.

Please see Eileen if you want any of the pictures off the White boards. Eileen works hard as the historian. If you want pictures just ask Eileen for one. She has the CD and can get one printed. Trying to figure out what is missing after the fact is so frustrating.

Wishing Happy Birthday this month to:
Helen Cooper
Paulette Gareau
Fanny Knapp and Lorraine Salisbury.
May God bless you on your special day
and through out the coming year.

Auditing & Accounting Committee

Subordinate Lodge Auditing & Accounting Committee Manual (Revised 9/2006)

4-203 Fund Raising Committees:

a. General

Chapter 6 of the Grand Lodge Auditing, Accounting and Management Manual sets forth the procedures, in general, to be used by Fund Raising Committees. However, for the benefit of the Lodge Business Management operations, this section sets forth the procedures in greater detail. This section, which applies to revenue-producing committees, does not include such committees as: House, Bingo, Lucky 7's, Bell Jar, etc.

PROCEDURE

b. Planning

When any committee is activated to conduct an affair, be it in the Lodge, or some outside location, the Chairman of the committee is to ensure that he appoints one of the committee members to act as Secretary. The latter is to keep detailed records of all preparatory work, meetings, rentals (which includes halls, equipment, etc.). It will be the responsibility of the Chairman to keep the Exalted Ruler informed, on a continual basis, regarding the activities of his Committee. Although the Committee has the right to negotiate with caterers and musicians, it is suggested that if the Committee plans to commit the Lodge to a contract for either the caterer or the musicians, the contract should be reviewed by the Board of Trustees, or the Lodge Auditing & Accounting Committee. A copy of any contract is to be placed in the Committee's file (Note: Once the affair has been completed, the Committee Chairman is to turn the file over to the Lodge Secretary, who will keep it for the next year's committee). In many cases, committees will require an advance from the Lodge to defray initial expenses. If this item is not in the budget, the Committee Chairman is to present his requirements to the Board of Trustees, and once approved will then place a motion on the floor for the funds. Please remember that when the committee's final report is made out, it is to include an item covering the "borrowed funds from the Lodge" . . . in some instances, the money is returned to the Lodge Secretary as soon as the committee has receipts (The Lodge Secretary is to issue a receipt to the committee, which will then become part of the final report.).

c. Accounting For Income and Expenses

Whenever the Committee meets, it is up to the Chairman to notify the Exalted Ruler. If at any time it appears that the Committee is not going to break even, or make a profit on the affair, consideration is to be given to either trying to raise additional funds or to cancel the affair. The Chairman is to ensure that no cash payments are made by his committee. However, in some circumstances such payments may be made but only to cover small items — KEEP IT LIMITED. The musicians, or caterers, are to be informed in advance that they will be paid by check . . . it is the responsibility of the Chairman to ensure that the proper checks are prepared. Also, no help is to be paid in cash . . . all by check. Should the Affair Committee need liquor or food from the Lodge House Committee, it is up to the Committee to negotiate prices; however, when the evening is completed, the Chairman of the House Committee is to submit a bill, for all goods and services furnished, to the Affair Chairman. When the Committee submits their report to the Lodge Secretary, the bill which is part of the report expenses is to be attached. The Secretary will, subsequently, process the bill through the Lodge voucher system for payment to the House Committee.

d. Final Report

The Chairman of the Affair Committee is to ensure that his final report is ready for presentation to the membership within two weeks after the affair is held; it is up to the Exalted Ruler to see to it that the report is presented promptly (Ref. 4-203a). The Committee Chairman is to submit a copy of the report, with all receipts and bills attached, to the Lodge Secretary. The Lodge Secretary will then issue a receipt for all funds submitted, which then becomes part of the Affair file. The Lodge Treasurer is to act as Treasurer of all committees; however, under no circumstances are any funds to be remitted directly to the Treasurer — all receipts are to be submitted to the Secretary first. The Secretary is to post the receipts of the affair in his cash receipts book, and then turn the funds over to the Treasurer who will enter the data in his cash receipts journal, and

Subordinate Lodge Auditing & Accounting Committee Manual (Revised 9/2006)

4-203 Fund Raising Committees:

a. General

Chapter 6 of the Grand Lodge Auditing, Accounting and Management Manual sets forth the procedures, in general, to be used by Fund Raising Committees. However, for the benefit of the Lodge Business Management operations, this section sets forth the procedures in greater detail. Also, no help is to be paid in cash . . . all by check. Should the Affair Committee need liquor or food from the Lodge House Committee, it is up to the Committee to negotiate prices; however, when the evening is completed, the Chairman of the House Committee is to submit a bill, for all goods and services furnished, to the Affair Chairman. When the Committee submits their report to the Lodge Secretary, the bill which is part of the report expenses is to be attached. The Secretary will, subsequently, process the bill through the Lodge voucher system for payment to the House Committee.

d. Final Report

The Chairman of the Affair Committee is to ensure that his final report is ready for presentation to the membership within two weeks after the affair is held; it is up to the Exalted Ruler to see to it that the report is presented promptly (Ref. 4-203a). The Committee Chairman is to submit a copy of the report, with all receipts and bills attached, to the Lodge Secretary. The Lodge Secretary will then issue a receipt for all funds submitted, which then becomes part of the Affair file. The Lodge Treasurer is to act as Treasurer of all committees; however, under no circumstances are any funds to be remitted directly to the Treasurer — all receipts are to be submitted to the Secretary first. The Secretary is to post the receipts of the affair in his cash receipts book, and then turn the funds over to the Treasurer who will enter the data in his cash receipts journal, and make the necessary deposit. At this time, the Secretary is to start processing the submitted bills through the Lodge voucher system. Note: Whenever, the Secretary turns funds over to the Treasurer, the latter is to issue a receipt to the Secretary (Ref. 4-203b). The Lodge Secretary is to ensure that he has blank copies of committee reports on file in his office. Whenever the Secretary receives a committee report, he is to file it for future reference for either the Lodge Auditing & Accounting Committee, the Accountant, or the next year's Committee Chairman.

Fraternally,
Dawn M. Bristol, Auditing & Accounting Committee Chairman
